We opened the meeting with a toast to Sherlock Holmes and our many Sherlockian Friends, given by Jerry Kegley.

Following we did the quiz on this month's story, The Adventure of the Yellow Face. Bruce Aikin was the winner.

Robert Katz next lead the discussion of the story and proceeded to involve everyone in much lively discussion and some laughs at Jerry Kegley's expense. Luckily, he was a good sport.

Peters is a seasoned stage actor who has had many encounters with Sherlock Holmes during his acting career. He has also played Moriarty and Mrs. Hudson. His discussion focused on the relationship between Holmes and Watson among many other topics. He also won an award for his portrayal, of Sherlock Holmes in The Final Adventure.

We then had a lightning round quiz of Colors in the Cannon. We had two winners for this game, Mark Jones, and Olivia Kirkendall.

The meeting then moved into the focus on Arthur Conan Doyle. Edith Pouden gave a wonderful presentation on Arthur Conan Doyle and his first wife and children with many fascinating pictures.
